Dear Jessica,

On behalf of us all at Flatirons Habitat, we are very grateful for your generosity and support. Thank you for your in-kind donation of roofing installation for three Habitat homes in Boulder at Coburn Square. Your donation will support Habitat families today and help support Habitat families today and pave the way for more hard-working, low-income families, in Boulder Valley and Broomfield, to partner with FHFH.

For over twenty years, we are grateful to have successfully built or rehabilitated 78 homes locally and over 116 internationally. Over 300 adults and children now have decent, safe and energy efficient housing. Once our homeowners move into their homes, we hear stories of continued growth, including completing education and greater independence and stability. As we look to the future, we are honored to have partners like you to help us meet critical housing needs.

In addition to construction of new homes, we have expanded our current Critical Home Repair program to help restore lower-income homes that were damaged by the floods of September 2013. In partnership with the Long-Term Recovery Group and the City of Boulder, we are helping to bring peace of mind for people who have wondered how they could ever rebuild. Your generous gift makes this possible.

We hope you will continue supporting our work in Broomfield and Boulder Valley communities. We serve the community building on the philosophy that Flatirons Habitat gives a hand up; not a hand out. Together we can build a brighter, more sustainable future for our community one family at a time.

Sincerely,

Susan Lythgoe
